Mateus is a thoughtful and dedicated student. His comprehension and analytical skills are quite strong and serve him well. He has demonstrated growth in both his oral and written work and has completed some excellent presentations. Furthermore, he works well with her peers and does not hesitate to take on leadership roles. This was especially evident with his work for the Fun Day event. We look forward to Mateus's continued growth and development as he progresses through the program.

2nd Semester

Entrepreneurship 110	85	1
Media Studies 120	91	1

Mateus is a diligent and extremely meticulous student. He is persistent and relentless when he is faced with a task that intrigues him. At times this can deter him from focusing on more important matters. For example, Mateus was so determined to improve his IELTS writing score that he often used valuable class time to practice his writing. While his determination is first-rate, he has difficulties in working on assignments and other class activities that are unrelated to his current target, which can sometimes hurt his grades. We encourage Mateus to continue to use his intense focus in the classroom but to work on his ability to shift his focus from one task to another quickly. With this in mind, Mateus will no doubt achieve great success in his future academic and professional careers.
